By listening to young people, the Church will once again hear the Lord speaking in today's world.

The Gospel-image of John the Apostle, [...] he is both an example of a young person who chooses to follow Jesus and "the disciple Jesus loved".

Faith is the source of vocational discernment, because faith provides vocational discernment with its fundamental contents, specific development, personal style and pedagogy.

Young people look for persons of reference who are able to express empathy and offer them support

The vocation to the joy of love is the fundamental call that God has placed in the heart of every young person.

To believe is to listen to the Spirit and, with all one's powers of mind and emotion, to dialogue with the Word, who is the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Faith “is no refuge for the fainthearted, but something which enhances our lives. It makes us aware of a magnificent calling, the vocation of love.

The Word of God is of great importance; meditating on it, in fact, mobilizes the passions as in all experiences which touch one's inner self.

Vocational discernment is a long process unfolding over time, during which one continues to monitor the signs used by the Lord to indicate and specify a vocation that is very personal and unique.

Spiritual guidance re-orientates a person towards the Lord and prepares the ground for an encounter with him (cf. Jn. 3:29-30).

To “go out” into the world of young people requires a willingness to spend time with them, to listen to the story of their lives and to be attentive to their joys, hopes, sadness and anxieties; all in an effort to share them.

Each young person can discover in Mary's life the way to listen, the courage that faith generates, the depths of discernment and dedication to service (cf. Lk 1:39-45).
